Blackboard Ultra Lab time
Every Tuesday 3-4pm Founders 7

Join the AT staff to get an overview or one-on-one assistance with Blackboard Ultra.

AI Detection: Tools, Techniques and Responsible Use
Wednesday, September 6th; noon - 1pm; CTL (Founders 8)
Lunch will be served

AI Detection: Tools, Techniques and Responsible Use - Artificial intelligence (AI) is transforming how students learn and faculty teach, but also raises concerns about academic integrity. This faculty training will provide an overview of AI capabilities in generating written work, methods for detecting AI-authored content, and best practices for addressing AI use on campus.

Donut Discussions
Sept 7, October 12, November 9; 9 - 10am; CTL (Founders 8)

Join your colleagues for informal conversations over donuts and coffee.

Introduction to RefWorks Citation Manager
Tuesday, September 7th; noon - 1pm; CTL (Founders 8)
Lunch will be served

During this workshop, faculty will learn about JU's official citation management database, RefWorks. In addition, faculty will learn how RefWorks can be used during the research process to help organize and cite sources in various citation styles. Faculty will also learn how to incorporate RefWorks into their classes to improve students' information literacy skills.

Tenure and Promotion Working Group
Wednesday, September 13th; 3:30 - 5pm; Founders 7

Open to those faculty members applying for tenure or promotion in October. Bring your computer or use the lab computers to work on your portfolios.

Understanding the Swipe Generation: Engaging Gen Z Students
Thursday, September 14th; 12:30 - 1:30; CTL (Founders 8)
Lunch will be served

In this session we will take a look at Gen Z trends and translate these insights into evidence-based teaching strategies. Join us as we investigate effective practices for keeping Gen Z learners actively engaged.

Custom Course Guides from Your Library
Tuesday, September 19th; noon - 1pm; CTL (Founders 8)
Lunch will be served

During this workshop, faculty will learn about JU's official citation management database, RefWorks. In addition, faculty will learn how RefWorks can be used during the research process to help organize and cite sources in various citation styles. Faculty will also learn how to incorporate RefWorks into their classes to improve students' information literacy skills.

Ready for Your Close-Up:
Tips for Confident, Compelling, and Compliant Media Appearances
Wednesday, September 20th; 3:30 - 4:30 pm; CTL (Founders 8)

Today's 24-hour news cycle presents more opportunities than ever for faculty to provide expert perspectives. However, communicating complex subject matter on tight media deadlines requires preparation and practice. This faculty development session will assist and empower you to comfortably deliver an expert interview. Faculty will learn how to pivot seamlessly between scholarly language and relatable examples, own their expertise with credibility during interviews, align media engagement with broader goals for impact, all while looking your best through the lens of a camera.

Blackboard Ultra Bootcamp
Friday, September 22nd; 9:00 - 12:30; Founders 7

Get a jump on our Fall 2024 Ultra conversions by attending the Blackboard Ultra Bootcamp! This session will take you through the basics, assessments and assignments, and the grade center.

Getting to Know the Institutional Repository
Tuesday, September 26th; noon - 1pm; CTL (Founders 8)
Lunch will be served

In this workshop, attendees will learn about and how to access the Swisher Library's Institutional Repository. Attendees will also learn about the procedure for submitting to the repository.

All About Service-Learning
Thursday, September 28th; 1:30 - 2:30 pm; CTL (Founders 8)

Join Dr. Laura Atkins for an open conversation about service-learning opportunities at JU. Topics will include 1) academic and community partner considerations when developing a course, 2) course approval processes, and 3) strategies for scholarship of teaching & learning (SOTL) that focus on service-learning. This session will be a good fit for those who are new to service-learning as well as those who already support service-learning courses and wish to expand their engagement.
